Commodity Market Drivers and Outlook for 2021

Thursday, January 21, 2021 from 4.00 p.m. to 5.30 pm.

Dear Sir/ Madam,

After facing unprecedented negativities 2020, the New Year 2021 will hopefully bring a new dawn for the world. Better health for mankind, improved economic performance among nations and gradual return towards pre-Covid activities are expected in 2021 as vaccines hit the market. 2020 did not spare commodity markets; indeed, the markets were buffeted by several conflicting signals. Some gained, some lost.

The year 2021 is most likely to witness the withering away of many concerns including health concerns and gradual return to normalcy. .

For those associated with commodity markets (energy, metals, agriculture) what are the key factors to look out for in 2021? What are the key market drivers and how are they likely to pan out? Will China continue to lead the recovery as it has done in Q4 2020? Importantly, what's the outlook for major commodity markets in 2021?

To discuss these and related matters, IMC and MCX-IPF have organised an online seminar on Commodity Market Drivers and Outlook for 2021 on Thursday, January 21, 2021 starting at 4.00 pm. Expert speakers will examine various market drivers and share their market outlook for 2021.

The virtual meeting will be on Zoom. There is NO PARTICIPATION FEE; but registration is necessary. On receiving registration request, VC details will be provided. For registrations and other details please contact Ms. Anita Naik at anita.naik@imcnet.org or visit to IMC website <https://www.imcnet.org/events-1005>.

We do hope you will be able to seize the opportunity and participate on 21st January 2021. It will be a knowledge enriching experience.
