

THE 3Cs OF CSR – CULTURE, CHALLENGES AND COMPLIANCES

Friday, 16th December, 2016 at BabubhaiChinai Committee Room, IMC

India is witnessing increasingly the conversion of responsibilities into legal obligations – and Corporate Social Responsibility – CSR - is the finest example of such conversion. From a nation whose culture is steeped into philanthropy, Legislature in its wisdom felt it necessary to mandate such expenditure.

The Corporates Members Committee of the Chamber in its continued commitment to deal with challenges being faced by corporate is organising a 2-hour panel discussion that will consider the views of various stakeholders in the CSR exercise. The discussion will cover the view of the Regulator who intended to make CSR an ingrained element of Corporate culture in India, of Corporate who are faced with the Compliance conundrum and balancing between responsibility towards Society and towards legal obligation and of NGOs who are facing the Challenge of soliciting CSR funds. It is a great opportunity for all of you to learn finer aspects of CSR, its regulations, intent and implementation challenges.
